The purpose of this unit is to create a bridge between students' understanding of equations in one variable and equations in two variables. The focus of instruction is on using algebra as a tool for representing and analyzing relationships between quantities that change. Equations in two variables represent relationships between two quantities.

In this unit, students revisit two-way tables to find associations in categorical data using relative frequencies. The unit also builds on previous knowledge of scatter plots by assessing how well a linear model matches the data using residuals as well as the correlation coefficient for best-fit lines (found using technology).
