I'm restoring a 69 CB175 from dirt and by some miracle found a local donor bike, a 1970 CL175. Obviously most stuff is the same between the two, but is there some major differences? My exhaust pipes and speedo/tach are shot, so I'd probably fit them and the scrambler style pipes from the CL if they're in good shape, and the side panels to go with them as my bike didn't come with any.

Major differences between cb175 and cl175?

1971 Honda CB175 k5 super sport. Runs and drives great. under 6000 original miles. Great commuter bike for NYC. Classic cafe racer styling that is a big head turner. Reason for selling is that I have 2 of these same year, same bikes, and i don't need them both. These honda twin engines are bulletproof and always run great.

History []. The CB175 was a high revving engine producing 20 bhp (15 kW), this was a beefier version of the CD175 but with twin carburetors and wilder cams.This bike was made keeping single purpose in mind i.e. excess of fun and performance combined with excellent styling. Top speed was increased to 85 mph (136km/h) with better acceleration compared to 80 mph(128 km/h) of CD175.
